

Why go to Hearts' Journey?

Making a plunge into religious life can be scary. That's why the Adorers of the Blood of Christ established Hearts' Journey, to provide a safety-net of experiences. No matter what path a woman chooses after completing her visit at Hearts' Journey, the Adorers genuinely want to assist with her discernment process.

Four Goals of Hearts' Journey

- To provide nurturing relationships through a mentor Sister, neighborhood experiences and visiting Adorers.
- To foster spiritual growth through communal prayer, meditation, faith-sharing activities, and spiritual guidance.
- To establish connections with the Church by participating in liturgies.
- To provide peer support in the discernment process.

"There is serenity here and I feel at peace."

Where is Hearts' Journey?

Hearts' Journey is located in Wichita, Kansas next to Cardinal Newman University, which is sponsored by the Adorers of the Blood of Christ. The large backyard makes great space for social gatherings and cookouts with other Adorers, neighbors, faculty and students from Newman University. Hearts' Journey is centrally located among a variety of Midwest attractions.

Adorers of the Blood of Christ

What is Hearts' Journey?

Hearts' Journey is a house of discernment for women who are exploring a call to religious life. We provide a spiritually rich environment with a wealth of discernment tools: peer support, private and communal prayer, communal living and responsibility, opportunities for outreach, spiritual guidance and supportive mentoring by professed Adorers of the Blood of Christ.

"Hearts' Journey is not an official formation program, it's an opportunity for women to come and discover our spirituality and mission. We provide a place for women to uncover their spiritual longings and learning more about the Adorers of the Blood Christ. It's a chance to test out religious life to see if it's a good fit."

Vocation Director S. Jan Lane, ASC

"Hearts' Journey's real value is offering young women an opportunity to block out the noise of the world and hear the voice in their heart."

Fr Tom Welk, CPPS, Adorer Chaplain

Who goes to Hearts' Journey?

Single Catholic women in their 20s -40s are welcomed to participate at Hearts' journey. Women from various walks in life visit us and come to deepen their own heart's journey. Some are college students or graduates, others are in transition and contemplating a career change, still others are professional women who long for a deeper relationship with God. We simply ask that participants are women of integrity who sincerely search for God.

How does Hearts' Journey work?

No two experiences at Hearts' Journey are alike. It's designed to meet the particular desire and needs of those who participate. Some women stay for short periods, as brief as a weekend or week, while others stay for months, gradually working through their discernment process.

Participants are charged a nominal fee based on the length of stay and circumstances. Details are discussed with the Vocation Director.

The home can accommodate several women at a time providing ready opportunities for strong community, prayer and peer support.

"Every single Sister I have met has been so happy and eager to teach me what they love about the ASC community"
